International Events & Communications intern
Studenterhus Aarhus

Are you passionate about events and communication? Would you like to help create a social and academic study environment in Aarhus for international students? Then you might be the one to become our Events & Communications intern in the Spring semester of 2027.

As an events and communications intern, you will gain hands-on experience in event planning, communication, project management, idea development and volunteer coordination, while helping create welcoming communities for international students. You'll be part of a lively office and a welcoming volunteer community where no two days are the same! You will work closely with our international coordinator and collaborate with other colleagues.

As an intern with us, you will get:

- The opportunity to try out different tasks and develop your own events and projects.
- Experience in organizing a wide variety of events.
- Experience with project management.
- Insight into the workflows of a small cultural organization, where you will become an integral part of the team. Experience with volunteer coordination and management.
- Experience with communication, social media and community engagement.
- The opportunity to collaborate with different organisations and partners.

The main tasks consist of:

- Developing and running welcome events for international students.
- Developing and running social and cultural events and projects for international students, such as the weekly I-Night, trips around Denmark, etc.
- Coordinating and supporting our international volunteer groups.
- Handling communication tasks, such as creating content for Facebook/Instagram & promoting events.
- Helping manage our international student communities, answering questions and sharing information.
- Helping with event preparations, registrations and practical coordination.
- Supporting projects and activities in collaboration with external partners.

We are looking for someone who:

- Is currently enrolled in higher education.
- Speaks and writes English confidently and has a basic working knowledge of Danish (international students who are still learning Danish are very welcome too, if you're willing to practise!).
- Wants to work in an intercultural environment where you meet many different people.
- Is ready to contribute to the daily operations of the office and assist with practical tasks, just like your colleagues in the office.
- Wants to be part of a dynamic office environment with varying working hours.
- Is creative, takes initiative and enjoys exploring new ideas.
- Enjoys organising things and communicating with different people.

The internship is unpaid, and you can expect to work an average of 37 hours per week—some of these hours will be in the evenings and on weekends. We will, of course, take into account any exams, student jobs, vacations, etc.
Start: mid-January 2027. We will agree on a start date together.
Duration: Approx. 5-6 months depending on your study programme's internship requirements (we're flexible!)

Does it sound like something you won't miss?
If you can see yourself in the description above - ish - please send us your application!
We'll review applications on an ongoing basis & hope to hold interviews during week 49 and 50, so don't wait too long to send us your application and CV! :)

Applications should be sent to Aurélie at aurelie@studenterhusaarhus.dk
Write 'International Events & Communications Intern' in the subject field.
If you have any questions about the position, please contact her or call +45 21971890.
We look forward to hearing from you!

Studenterhus Aarhus is a student center for students in all higher education programs in Aarhus. We are approximately 150 volunteers and 10 full-time employees who work every day to ensure that students have access to cultural and social events, student jobs, internships, and opportunities to meet each other across educational programs, nationalities, and academic backgrounds.
